ISHA UPANISHAD of SHUKLA YAJUR VEDA

(Also known as Ishavasya Upanishad,
Ishavasyopanishad, or Ishopanishad)

ॐ ईशा वास्यमिदं सर्वं यत्किञ्च जगत्यां जगत् ।

तेन त्यक्तेन भुञ्जीथा मा गृधः कस्यस्विद्धनम् ॥ १ ॥

This is the first mantra of the Upanishad: "All that exists in this changeful universe is pervaded by the self, the pure awareness. Support yourself by renunciation. Do not covet the wealth of anyone."

Group study of the Vedic text and its 18 mantras with the commentaries of Adi Shankaracharya

- * Recitation of the text following the original with Vedic accents
- * Recitation of traditional Vedic prayers
- * Study material for printing
- * Ideas of how the Devanagari script is used in the Sanskrit language

THE SACRED TEXTS

Teacher: V.S. Dr. Horacio E. Vajovsky

In the year 1985 I came into contact with Indian culture and tradition. In 1990 I had the great blessing to become a student Sri Pujya Swami Dayananda. In the year 2007 I completed the three-and-a-half-year Vedanta course, as resident in the City of Nagpur, India, taught by Mataji Brahmaprakashananda Saraswati, where I also received on September 8, 2007 the qualification of Vedanta Shastri –Title granted by the Kavikulaguru Kalidas Sanskrit University of the city of Nagpur. Afterwards, on the advice and with the blessings of Mataji, I began teaching courses on Introduction to Vedanta and Sanscrit, Tattva Bodhah, Mundaka Upanisad and Katha Upanishad among other texts.

In addition, I conduct another group in which I share advanced Vedanta texts weekly.

Bhagavad Gita

Home Study Groups

Dr. Roberto Toranzo

Following the advice of Swami Svatmananda, we are focusing on the formation of various Bhagavad Gita Home Study groups in different localities of the City, and of the province, of Buenos Aires.

The idea is to form groups of between 7 and 11 persons who meet weekly to read, analyze and study the teachings of Pujya Swamiji in the 9 volumes of his monumental work on the Bhagavad Gita which he himself highly recommends as the first step in the study of Vedanta.
